

Wild Solutions: Overcoming Human-Wildlife Conflict Issues

Saturday, October 24th, 2009

At 8:30 am, Antioch University New England, 40 Avon St, Keene, NH

With keynote speakers

Francine Madden, M.S.

Executive Director, Human-Wildlife Conflict Collaboration

Philip Nyhus, PhD

Environmental Studies Department, Colby College

Join to hear presentations by Dr. Richard Estes Associate of the Harvard Museum of Natural History and Research Associate of the Smithsonian Conservation and Research Center, Sharon Matola of The Belize Zoo and Tropical Education Center, and others to explore current research and recommendations about human-wildlife conflict interventions.

For more information, or to register, contact: kgodfrey@antioch.edu

Phone: 800-553-8920 x 2348

Or visit us online at: www.centerfortropicalecology.org

Pre-registration Appreciated

Registration Fee: $40 non-students, $20 students (includes lunch and reception)