

Jill Rolph Resume:

Education:

Master's of Science Degree, July 2008

Antioch University New England, Keene, NH

Environmental Studies: Individualized – Endangered Species Management

Professional Work Experience:

Daniel Webster College, Nashua, NH:

(2009 – Present) – Adjunct Faculty Professor: Wildlife, Conservation, and Culture.

Southern New Hampshire University, Manchester, NH:

(2009 – Present) – Adjunct Faculty Professor: English 121 – College Composition II.

(2008 - Present) – Adjunct Faculty Professor: English 120 – College Composition I.

Manchester Community College, Hooksett, NH:

(2008 – Present) – Adjunct Faculty Professor: Oral Communications.

NH Audubon - Loon Preservation Committee (LPC), Moultonborough, NH:

(2007) – Common Loon Field Biologist, Monadnock Region of NH.

NH Audubon - Loon Preservation Committee (LPC):

(2007 – Present) – Loon Preservation Committee: Education Project Director.

The Nature Conservancy, NH:

(2008) – Independent Study/Project Leader: Rapid Ecological Assessment (REA) on an undeveloped 1,000 + acre property in Sullivan, New Hampshire.

NH Audubon:

(2007) – Hawk Field Biologist (Practicum): NH State park - Pack Monadnock, Peterborough, NH.

Contoocook Valley School District, Peterborough, NH:

(2005-2006) - Substitute teacher - grades K-12.

Caribbean Conservation Corporation, FL (CCC):

(2005) - Sea Turtle Research Assistant/ Internship: Obtained international field work experience on an ongoing leatherback sea turtle and bird migration conservation project at the Biological Field Station in Tortugero, Costa Rica.

Contoocook Valley School District, Peterborough, NH:

(2004 - 2005) - Great Brook School Project Director: Developed and planned a sea turtle education program and presented it multiple times to over (130) 5th grade students and their educators at Great Brook School, Antrim, NH.

Contoocook Valley School District, Peterborough, NH:

(2004-2005) - New Hampshire Sea Turtle Foundation Website Project Director: Responsible for design, development and implementation of the first ever NH Sea Turtle Website (nhseaturtle.org).

Granite State Dance School, Henniker, NH:

(1987-1994) - Business Owner, Founder and Artistic Director/Teacher.

New England College, Henniker, NH:

(1987-1988) – Adjunct Faculty – Theater Department

International Symposiums: (2004 – 2008):

Center for Tropical Ecology & Conservation Symposium, “Coastal Connections: Linking Research and Education in Tropical Systems” – Antioch University New England, Keene, New Hampshire, USA:

(2008) Abstract and Poster Presentation – Acceptance by Jury: Leveraging the New England Connection through Education and Communication

International Sea Turtle Society - International Symposium on Sea Turtle Biology and Conservation: Attended yearly by approximately 1000 attendees from over 70 countries.

2008 Abstract and Poster Presentation – Acceptance by Jury: Sea Turtles and the Tropics:

Leveraging the New England Connection through Bi-directional Education and Communication, Loreto, Mexico.

2007 Abstract and Poster Presentation – Acceptance by Jury: Teaching New Hampshire Kids about Endangered Sea Turtles, Myrtle Beach, NC.

2006 Abstract and Poster Presentation – Acceptance by Jury: New Hampshire Sea Turtle Foundation: Between Tradition and Innovation, Crete, Greece.

2005 Abstract and Poster Presentation - Acceptance by Jury: Saving the Leatherback Sea Turtle in New Hampshire, Savannah, GA.

Grants and Scholarships: (Most Recent and Applicable)

New Hampshire Charitable Foundation (NHCF), Concord, NH: Grant Received (June, 2008) Loon Preservation Committee (LPC): Statewide Loon Volunteer Educator Program – Jill Rolph Education Director and Project Leader.

International Sea Turtle Society: Travel grants received –

(2008) – Loreto, Mexico – 28th Annual Symposium

(2007) – Myrtle Beach, SC – 27th Annual Symposium

(2006) – Crete, Greece – 26th Annual Symposium

(2005) – Savannah, GA – 25th Annual Symposium

Center for Tropical Ecology & Conservation (CTEC): Recipient of (2008) academic/merit Scholarship - (Antioch University New England) to support attending the 2008 International Symposium on Sea Turtle Biology and Conservation in Loreto, Mexico. Presented Abstract.

Natural and Human Landscapes of Alaska: Recipient of (2007) academic/merit Scholarship to study geology and land use in Alaska, - (Antioch University New England). This 18 day field study expedition focused on the physical, cultural, and ecological landscapes of Alaska in the context of conflicting notions of pristine environment and underutilized resource. (May 12 – May 31 study trip).

New Hampshire Charitable Foundation, Concord, NH: (2004) - Monadnock Community Foundation Project Grant Award received: Helping save the Leatherback Sea Turtle in New Hampshire.

Professional Affiliations:

Caribbean Conservation Corporation: www.cccturtle.org

Center for Tropical Ecology & Conservation (CTEC): www.CenterForEcology.org

Harris Center For Conservation Education: www.harriscenter.org

International Sea Turtle Society: www.seaturtle.org

Loon Preservation Committee: www.loon.org

Nature Conservancy: www.natureconservancy.org

New Hampshire Audubon: www.nh.audubon.org

New Hampshire Department of Environmental Services (NHDES) Volunteer Lake Assessment Program (VLAP): www.des.nh.gov

Scobie Pond Preservation Association, Franconia, NH

Publications: (2008) – The New Hampshire Audubon Junior Biologist Raptor Activity and Coloring Book, and in (2005) – The Leatherback Sea Turtle Activity and Coloring Book.

Training and Development: (2008) – Wrote Volunteer Loon Training Manual for New Hampshire Audubon's Loon Preservation Committee (LPC).